Career Opportunity – Logging Engineer

Campbell River, BC.

Launch Your Coastal Forestry Career with the Right Team.

Who you work with early in your career matters.

The best forestry professionals learn from experienced mentors, gain exposure to challenging projects, and take on increasing responsibility from day one.

That's exactly what you'll find at A&A Trading Ltd.

We're looking for a Logging Engineer who is eager to learn, ambitious, and excited about building a long-term career in coastal forestry. You'll work alongside experienced operators and forestry professionals while gaining hands-on exposure to forestry development, road engineering, harvesting operations, and tenure management.

THE OPPORTUNITY

As part of our Operations Group, you will:

- Assist with forestry development and operational planning
- Support road engineering and harvesting activities
- Conduct field reviews and operational inspections
- Participate in permitting and compliance activities
- Work with contractors and operational personnel
- Support stakeholder and Indigenous engagement processes
- Contribute to safe, productive, and environmentally responsible operations
